

Center Manufacturing

Byron Center, Michigan

data

- new and renovated office space
- construction completed: 1997
- building area (addition & renovation): 11,590 s.f.
- method of construction: design-build
- general contractor: DVK Construction, Inc.
- cost: $550,000 / $47 per s.f.

entrance before

reception and conference beyond entrance after

summary

Center Manufacturing required additional office space for their manufacturing plant. The small and disjointed existing office spaces from several previous additions did not allow the teams to work well together. The design solution expanded the offices and reorganized the existing spaces into a cohesive plan. The addition creates a new unified image for the building, while the lobby and entry communicate the client's desire to express the precision and strength of metal.